RBS International join Friends of Manx National Heritage as Corporate Members

RBS International has recently joined the Friends of Manx National Heritage Corporate Membership Scheme. To mark the occasion Victoria McEaney, Regional Director, RBS International and members of staff were photographed on the roof of the offices being presented with the company's reproduction painting from the National Collection. The backdrop was in fact the same as that seen in the painting.

Nicola Pemberton, Development and Admin Officer of the Friends of Manx National Heritage, said:

"As one of the leading companies on the Island, we are delighted to welcome RBS International as corporate members of FMNH. We hope that they will enjoy the many benefits of membership. We will also be looking forward to working with RBS on some future community projects".

Victoria McEaney, Regional Director, RBS International said "We at RBS International are really delighted to join the Friends of Manx National Heritage. It provides a great opportunity for us to support the Island's fantastic heritage both through the membership and practically by participating in the very varied and worthwhile conservation projects that the Charity undertakes."

Participating RBS International employees will now benefit from complementary admission to all of the Story of Mann sites, whilst RBS International will benefit from special access to the Story of Mann attractions for corporate entertaining in some of the most atmospheric environments on the Island including the new National Art Gallery, the Natural History Gallery and the Niarbyl Café and Visitor Centre, as well as some of the more established venues such as the Manx Museum, Castle Rushen, the House of Manannan and the Old House of Keys. Access to the facilities will include use of the many conference facilities, membership marketing support and a framed canvas reproduction of a painting in the National collection.

Organisations interested in joining the Friends of Manx National Heritage Corporate Membership Scheme should contact Nicola Pemberton, Development and Administration Officer of The Friends of Manx National Heritage on 824137.
