The Friends of Manx National Heritage

Friends of Manx National Heritage is a Manx Charity created to support the work of Manx National Heritage and has a unique role in helping to preserve our Island history, heritage and properties, which include some 3000 acres of Manx National Trust Land.

Leaving a legacy

We would ask you to consider kindly leaving a legacy to Friends of Manx National Heritage when you make your Will. Such generosity will provide funds to assist Manx National Heritage protect our Island for future generations.

With such help works of art can be acquired, valuable conservation work continued – and in some cases assistance given to acquire and preserve properties of historic or scenic significance.

What to do

Making a Will is not difficult and is relatively inexpensive. A valid Will is one way for your wishes to be carried out. We would recommend you seek professional advice from an advocate.

Should you be considering leaving land or buildings we would suggest you contact us and we can put you in touch with the relevant person before drafting your Will.
